II. Announcements and Community Comments

Haley Land mentioned that he had read over the Development Agreement a few times and had noted that overall there were no surprises in it. He said Ben Franz-Knight and Lillian Hochstein have gone beyond their due diligence with involving the community and public in this MarketFront project process; the Stakeholders group is particularly indebted to them. He highlighted the importance of the Plaza and putting it into perspective. When the public sees the Plaza in the future, the first way they are going to evaluate it is going to be by those things that are most public. He would like make sure that the Plaza it is pleasing to the public and that the public wants to be there.

Ann Magnano entered into the meeting at 4:05 p.m.

Bob Messina noted his support for the project which is being voted upon today. He said that the project has come a long way. He mentioned that current project was a smaller project than what the PDA had originally been presented including the reduction in debt. He congratulated the PDA Council and staff on their fine tuning of the MarketFront project and costs.
Joan Paulson said that the Development Agreement basically commits the organization to the debt of 73 million dollars. She added that the agreement would allow the organization to extend the project activities further West, beyond the approved boundaries of the Pike Place Market Urban Renewal Plan. She spoke further about the commitment with the Overlook Walkway and development potentially another 160,000,000 in costs; this cost is something the PPM PDA Organization cannot take on. She noted that with the agreement, it is committing future generations to over 200,000,000 million dollars. She spoke on Section 12.8, Governing Law of the Development Agreement and the last section of the Development Agreement. She mentioned that it would be to our benefit to hire another attorney, and to get a separate opinion on this agreements effect on the Urban Renewal Plan; she further explained why a City attorney is not a viable option. She lasted noted that this agreement does not uphold the Urban Renewal Plan and commits to a sizable economic impact.

Howard Aller stated that what we have in front of us is a document for roughly a 70 million dollar project; the largest project the Market has undertaken. He stated that if we approve this project, we can deal with the mistakes. If we do not approved this project tonight, each month it will cost us a quarter million dollars.

III. Key Issues and Discussion Items
A. Update on Budget Summary, Flow of Funds and Schedule - MarketFront project
Justine Kim, Project Manager and Ben Franz-Knight provided a review of the MarketFront Project Flow of Funds and Total Budget Summary. Ben highlighted the status of the key financing components for the MarketFront project. He said that that the Market Foundation was confident that they would raise the six million in philanthropy for the project. He provided an update on the New Market Tax credits, noting positive discussions on that front with Chase bank. He lastly reported that Lillian and he would be meeting with State Legislators next week.

Bruce Burger asked what the approximate annual profit of the additional garage spaces before debt was for the project.

Jim Savitt asked about the total debt with the MarketFront project, including the existing garage bond.

Matt Hanna asked for detailed information regarding the ratios of debt-to-revenue for the next Finance and Asset Management Committee meeting.

VI. Items for the Consent Agenda
None

VII. Public Comment
Bob Messina congratulated the PDA Council and PDA staff for a job well done with the progress of the project. He inquired regarding the mention of public art money from the City as part of the Development Agreement.
It was noted that the public art money as mentioned in the Development Agreement was the minimum amount we must contribute to the project.

Joan Paulson noted that her participation has always been what’s best for the Market. She said that we have an agreement which has contingencies that had not been reviewed to the public. She noted that she sees the Development Agreement as an erroneous document; the people here that voted upon the document will not be here in five years. She noted that she would like to hear from the PDA Board, in the writing, was where is the role in the Market Historic Commission in regards to the project further to the west. She lastly said that she was not certain on this project because of this agreement; the players keep changing and there is more uncertainty.

Haley Land asked about the Overlook Walkway as part of the Development Agreement. He asked that if the OLW is to be made of superior materials, this is something we should be thinking about with the future connection of the MarketFront project.

Howard Aller thanked the PDA Council for the final Development Agreement. He said this is the Market and that nothing is perfect; the Market is all accidental and organic.

VIII. Concerns of Committee Members
Jackson Schmidt followed up on Howard Aller’s previous public comments. He stated that it is remarkable that we have had complete consensus today with the PDA Council on approving the Development Agreement for the MarketFront project. He gave personal thanks Ben Franz-Knight with his incredible work on leadership with the MarketFront project.
